Seminar Outline

FIRST Phone Session on April 20: NIV Issues

- Third Country National NIV Applications In Canada And Mexico
 - Border Posts: overview of who can and cannot apply.
 - Rationale for limitations on who cannot apply.
 - Appointments always necessary.
 - Necessary forms: DS-160
 - At which posts can List of 26 and T-7 apply?
 - Is there a case for a TCN not applying in Canada or Mexico, if eligible to do so?
 - Border Post review of right to counsel at visa interviews.
 - Circumstances under which an applicant not issued a visa at a border post can return to the United States.
- Home Country Visa Applications
 - Appointments almost always necessary. Check waiting times on DOS and consular post website for details.
 - Research post policies, personnel and local red flags.
 - CIS approved petitions (H, L, O, P) are not a promise of a visa.
 - Prepare the client for the interview and ensure visa applications are completed accurately and completely.
 - Documents applicant should bring to the interview.
 - Waiver of personal appearance.
 - What to do when there is a glitch at the visa interview:
 - Security clearances, NCIC Checks, and Hits in the Database: the applicant forgot about the arrest for pot or shoplifting 30 years ago.
 - Petition Issues: Job Inflation and Skills Tests - does the job exist and can the employer afford to pay the wage?

SECOND Phone Session on May 12: IV Issues

- Considerations in Consular Processing.
 - Unlawful presence and effect on application
 - Risk that the applicant's visa and/or immigration history may result in delay or denial.
 - Readjudication of labor certifications, visa petitions and qualifications of applicant. < India in posts consular at>
- "Following-to-join" issues.
 - Documents to file with the consular posts.
 - When can principal alien's entitlement to LPR status be readjudicated at the IV interview of the "following-to-join" spouse or child?
 - When may the IV issuance be properly delayed and for how long? (Issue arises in Manila when principal alien adjusted status as a nurse; Issue arises when principal alien adjusted status as an asylee or through legalization; Issue arises when consular officer questions whether principal alien in F2A (unmarried minor child) and F2B (unmarried, adult son or daughter) cases is maintaining his/her principal place of residence and domicile in the United States at the time of the interview.)
- Considerations in family-based petition cases.
 - When blood relationship questioned, may attorney insist on DNA test and through what mechanism? Often much time would be saved through DNA testing, particularly when the alternatives are returning an approved petition to CIS and/or awaiting the outcome of a local investigation.
 - Strategies to resolve relationship questions locally in lieu of petition return to CIS.
 - I-864 issues (E.g. Whether petitioner "resides" in the United States.)
- Processing of an "Age-Out" Case.
- Processing of a Child Status Protection Act (CSPA) Case.
- "Portability of an approved alien labor certification and I-140" to immigrant visa processing

THIRD Phone Session on June 2: Waiver Practice in Consular Processing

- Nonimmigrant Visa Waivers of Inadmissibility.
 - General Issues:
 - Who is eligible for a 212(d)(3) waiver?
 - Which grounds can be waived?
 - Which grounds cannot be waived?
 - The life of a waiver.

ABOUT THE SPEAKERS

Jan Pederson (Discussion Leader) has been dedicated to the practice of immigration and nationality law for over twenty years. She has successfully represented thousands of clients and is masterful at resolving complex immigration issues. Ms. Pederson's impressive list of clients includes renowned physicians, urban and rural health care providers, Fortune 500 companies, television networks, entertainers, computer personnel and other professionals. She is a leading advocate for the rights of J-1 Physicians in the United States and has been key to the passage of legislation to benefit them. She is also the publisher of J-1 Physician News; and lectures nationally and internationally to foreign physicians. She seeks solutions for her clients beyond the immigration laws and does not hesitate to seek solutions from The White House and Congress, if necessary. She has been a key advocate on the restoration of the National Interest Waivers for J-1 Physicians and in increasing the Conrad State 20 J-1 Waiver Program to the Conrad State 30 Program. She served as president of the Washington, D.C. Chapter of the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA); as an elected director of the national Board of Governors of AILA for eighteen years. She has served as a chairperson of the Physicians Task Force of AILA for many years and has also served as chairperson of the AILA Visa Office Liaison Committee and Refugee Committee. She was the recipient of the prestigious national award, The Edith Lowenstein Award, in 1997 for excellence in the advancement of the practice of immigration law.

Greg Siskind is a partner in Siskind Susser's Memphis, Tennessee, office. After graduating magna cum laude from Vanderbilt University, he received his Juris Doctorate from the University of Chicago. Mr. Siskind is a member of AILA, a board member of the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, and a member of the ABA, where he serves on the LPM Publishing Board as Marketing Vice Chairman. He is the author of several books, including the J Visa Guidebook and The Lawyer's Guide to Marketing on the Internet. Mr. Siskind practices all areas of immigration law, specializing in immigration matters of the health care and technology industries. He can be reached by email at gsiskind@visalaw.com.

Jill Bussey Jill Marie Bussey leads our Global Immigration Practice, overseeing the development of project and individual case strategies to address the recruitment and transfer of human resources throughout the world. In this role she manages the visa and work permit needs of international professionals, managers, and executives. This area of her practice focuses on developing strategic relationships with a deep network of attorneys across the globe to develop highly specialized nonimmigrant and immigrant visa programs that address both long-term and short-term business needs. She works closely with clients to identify and advise them on matters of compliance, emerging trends and the potential implications on their business. She is adept at developing strategies to address unique immigration requirements for expatriates, including: U.S. permanent residents and dependents accepting long-term assignments abroad; accessing citizenship status to facilitate family-based immigration; and managing multiple destination assignments. With over a decade of experience in business immigration spanning a broad sector of industries including Fortune 500, government and private sector commercial entities, as well as non-governmental organizations, Jill has a deep understanding of the multiple drivers and participants involved in the immigration process. In addition to her Global Immigration experience, Jill gained extensive experience with U.S. immigration matters while she served as an attorney for a multi-practice global law firm in Washington, D.C. Jill's background in business law has made her particularly adept at advising organizations undergoing corporate changes and expansion to the U.S. She is experienced with all aspects of U.S. business immigration including nonimmigrant and immigrant categories and is an effective advocate for clients facing agency backlogs and challenges with issues related to their immigration status. Jill is an active member in her community and Member of the Board of Directors for a non-profit organization that serves the foreign-born community in Central Maryland.

Ellen Freeman is of counsel at K&L Gates, LLP. Ms. Freeman has practiced in the area of immigration law for over 11 years. She focuses her practice on biotech, pharma and academia. She assists clients in industries ranging from health care to manufacturing, on the full spectrum of immigration issues including advising corporate entities regarding the immigration impact of corporate reorganizations, mergers, acquisitions and divestitures, including drafting opinion letters regarding continuous employment eligibility of foreign national employees, and assisting start-up and foreign companies with the establishment of U.S. operations, corporate entity formation and recruitment of talent. While in law school, Ms. Freeman served as a teaching assistant for the Legal Analysis and Writing Program. She won the 1998 Niagara International Moot Court in Chicago. While living in the former Soviet Union, Ms. Freeman assisted an international humanitarian organization with the distribution of aid and resettlement of civil war refugees who were displaced during a conflict in Moldova in 1992.

Kehrela Hodkinson was admitted to the California State Bar in 1980, after graduating from Loyola Law School in Los Angeles. She established her first law office in Los Angeles, California in 1982, where her practice concentrated on nonimmigrant visas and employment and family-based immigration matters. After moving to San Francisco, California in 1987, she founded a second immigration law firm and continued to provide expertise relating to temporary and permanent visas for business personnel and family-based immigration. Since 1994, Ms. Hodkinson has exclusively practiced US immigration and nationality law in London. Ms. Hodkinson represents a broad range of corporate and individual clients in connection with nonimmigrant visa matters, immigrant visa petitions, extraordinary ability petitions and family-based immigrant petitions. In addition, she provides advice relating to maintaining permanent resident status and expatriation issues. Ms. Hodkinson is a founding member of the Academy of Business Immigration Lawyers (ABIL), a think tank dedicated to promoting best practices in immigration client service and law firm management and has been nominated by her peers to the International Who's Who of Business Immigration Lawyers. She is a member of the American Immigration Lawyers Association, the American Bar Association, and American Women Lawyers in London. Ms. Hodkinson is a frequent speaker at professional conferences regarding US visa processing in London and is often asked to testify before UK courts with respect to US immigration ramifications related to child custody matters and issues regarding treaty investor/treaty trader status.

Joanne Orizal has practiced immigration law in greater New York for 25 years, both at large corporate law firms and in immigration boutiques. She
