ABOUT THE SPEAKERS

Ceridwen J. Koski (Discussion Leader) Admitted to the state bars of Arizona and New York, Ceri has experience working with clients that range from Fortune 500 companies, individual investors, start-up companies, U.S. branches of global corporations, and entertainers.

Miguel Manna works closely with both large multinational corporations and individuals to strategize the most successful pathways to accomplish their immigration goals. In so doing, he balances the needs of his clients with the complex requirements of the federal statutes and regulations. Miguel is a native of Caracas, Venezuela. Before moving to the United States, he lived in Panama, Ecuador, Hong Kong, Taiwan, and Japan.

Steven Heller has been practicing US immigration law since 1992. He began practicing with a small Washington, DC firm. He then joined the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) in New York, and later Newark, before returning to legal practice with a New York-based non-profit organization. He subsequently returned to the government, taking positions with US Citizenship & Immigration Services (USCIS) headquarters in Washington, DC. In 2006, he relocated to the UK where, after a brief foray into private client representation with a Brighton solicitors firm, he rejoined USCIS as an adjudicator at the US Embassy in London. He left USCIS to join a London law firm before establishing his own Brighton-based practice. Steven has experience in representing individuals and businesses in matters ranging from family- and business-based immigration to inadmissibility waivers and protection issues, as well as citizenship and naturalization.

Chris Musillo is one of MusilloUnkenholtz two Co-Managing Partners. He has been an immigration attorney since graduating from the University of Cincinnati's College of Law in 1998. He specializes in immigration for the healthcare, information technology, staffing, relocation, engineering, and financial industries. His client-base is wide-ranging and includes the largest healthcare companies in the US, as well as entrepreneurial-driven start-up ventures. Prior to starting MU, Chris was a partner at a large Midwestern immigration law firm. Chris' written work has been featured in the American Immigration Lawyers Association's Annual Publication, Immigration & Nationality Law Handbook, the Cincinnati Bar Association Report, Worldwide ERC's Mobility, and a variety of on-line publications. Chris has been selected as a speaker at many national and international conferences for organizations such as the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA), Staffing Industry Analysts (SIA), Health Careers Interaction, and the American Society for Healthcare Human Resources Association (ASHHRA).

Marcela Mendoza Prior to joining Ogletree Deakins, she served as immigration in-house counsel for a Fortune 1000 company, Qwest Communications/CenturyLink. Ms. Mendoza worked as in-house counsel for 10 years as part of the labor and employment legal team, where she handled immigrant and non-immigrant visa petitions. Ms. Mendoza also advised the Company on immigration-related compliance issues, such as I-9 and e-verify regulations. In addition, Ms. Mendoza counseled management in the area of affirmative action compliance, representing the Company in compliance evaluations and administrative review actions initiated by the US Department of Labor's Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP). Previously, Ms. Mendoza was an Assistant Attorney General for Ken Salazar. She also clerked for Honorable Justice Gregory Hobbs on the Colorado Supreme Court.

Dilnaz Saleem is a Senior Associate in the Houston office of Berry Appleman & Leiden LLP. Ms. Saleem concentrates her practice on all aspects of employment-based immigration, including nonimmigrant and immigrant visa petitions, permanent residence, PERM labor certifications, and corporate immigration policy and business compliance issues. Ms. Saleem also provides counsel on other aspects of U.S. immigration including citizenship and naturalization issues, family-based immigration, and preparation for consular processing. Prior to her employment with Berry Appleman & Leiden, Ms. Saleem was an associate with a global law firm that practices exclusively in immigration and nationality law. Ms. Saleem also held clerkships with the United States District Court, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Tarrant County District Attorney's Office.

Laurel Scott is the Founding Attorney at Scott and Associates. She received a BA from Simon's Rock College, a Master's Degree from Duke University, and a Law Degree from Temple University in Philadelphia, PA where she completed the Temple University Immigration Law Clinical. She spent a year studying at the Queen's University of Belfast and completed an internship at the European Parliament. She started work on her first waiver of inadmissibility in 2003 and quickly realized that waivers were an ideal niche for her new firm. Over the years, she emerged as one of the nation's leading experts in this type of case, publishing numerous articles on the subject and speaking at many events for immigration lawyers. Licensed in Texas.
